Kando's owner will have no problem finding and maintaining a good crew. The Captain's cabin is generously proportioned positioned behind the wheelhouse and a crew area aft of the engine room offers accommodation, bathroom and toilet facilities, a crew galley and mess well above what would typically be expected.

There is nothing to say about the interior styling other than "impressive". High-gloss finished American Walnut in combination with high-gloss finished Wenge and dark leather furniture is used in the interior decoration as well as satin wenge flooring mixed with carpet and off-white upholstery. The creation is a harmonious interior with a soft-contrast ambiance, free from excessive décor elements and meticulously planned according to effect and functionality.
